Dear Mr. Macchione:

National Conflict Resolution Center (NCRC) is a dedicated partner in the advancement of the Live Well San Diego vision and we are excited to formalize our commitment, both internally for our staff and board, and externally for our community partners and the individual residents that we interact with every day.

NCRC is dedicated to providing communication, conflict management, and inclusivity trainings, as well as early intervention mediation and restorative justice services. NCRC is also committed to supporting collective impact initiatives. Combined, we believe these efforts will increase civility by empowering community members' self-reliance, trusting relationships, and abilities to navigate conflict in a collaborative manner.

NCRC believes that by fostering safe communities through a climate of civility, San Diego will become healthier, safer, and thrive.

We look forward to collaboratively working with the County of San Diego and all San Diego County community members, and appreciate the opportunity to become a Live Well San Diego partner.

Sincerely,
